The Jabra C650 The corded mobile headset that means business

For business on the move

Whatever environment you're in – in the car, at the airport or just out in the street, the Jabra C650 gives you superior reception and excellent sound quality. It is equipped with a noise-filtering microphone for minimal background interference, and a high-performance speaker, meaning you get outstanding conversation quality wherever you are. The Jabra C650 is also hearing-aid compatible, so users of telecoil-equipped hearing aids will be able to communicate effectively with no feedback or amplification of unwanted background noise.

Designed for comfort and usability

If you spend a lot of time on your mobile phone, you will really appreciate the adaptability of the Jabra C650. This lightweight headset can be worn in two ways – either with a headband or an earhook – for optimal comfort. Call management is made easy with a dedicated call/answer button, muting button and an intuitive volume dial. It also comes with a handy clip to stop the cord getting in the way.
